Executive Goes to Christening of His Grandchild at Williamstown, Mass., Tomorrow

Confident that he had been re-elected,

Following an automobile ride and golf game before luncheon, the President remained in his study at Shadow Lawn this afternoon and tonight, getting the returns by telephone from Secretary Tumulty, who had been on guard at the executive offices since 6 o'clock last night.

During his ride the President passed through Asbury Park, where the executive offices are located. He was recogniezd by many and cheered. One group shouted out to him enthusiastically that he had been re-elected. He raised his hat and bowed, smiling broadly. Mrs. Wilson accompanied him.

The President kept his own tabulation of electoral votes and checked it up carefully after each report from Secretary Tumulty. He received a number of messages from Democratic leaders assuring him he had been re-elected.

After a brief absence for dinner, Secretary Tumulty, with members of the executive office staff and local Democrats. took up their vigil at the executive offices again at 8 o'clock tonight. They were prepared to remain up all night if necessary, although most of them had not been to bed since early yesterday morn-
