

DR. WILSON FLAYS G. O. P. RULE AND SECRET METHODS

politics, both in State and nation. New Jersey was certain to add her contribution to that wave of impulse for higher ideals and a more direct participation in public affairs by the people that is now sweeping over this entire country.

The first great shout was precipitated by his earnest declaration that the contest in New Jersey was not one between parties, but it had come to be a choice between platforms and policies.

Mr. Wilson then proceeded to get right down to business, and addressed himself with all the earnestness he could master to several issues which the people of this State must face. He took up the question of conservation and dwelt upon it with greater exhaustiveness than he has employed in any previous speech when he spoke of that vital problem.

Urges Liability Law. He urged with fervor the necessary legislation that would make possible the protection of life through strong machinery, the improvement of the sanitation in shops and cities, in all of which work the "state should have a leading influence."

He then took up the issue of legislation that is necessary for the control of public corporations and stated that beneficial legislation is a thing that needs an atmosphere of publicity if it is to thrive.

One of the great needs of the country is public debate on public questions with the public itself. Condemning the actions of the "board of guardians" of the Republican party in this State, he proceeded to jab holes into recent Republican history in this State, and his destructive criticism of the Republican leaders and Legislature tickled the crowd immensely.

He declared the greater probabilities of real service to the people of New Jersey were certainly with the Democratic party this year, and asked the voters to support that ticket from governor to all the other candidates. Probably the most vociferous applause of the night was that which greeted his assertion that the real test of sincerity is a definite promise, which his party had made.

The concluding part of Dr. Wilson's speech was an eloquent appeal to the people of the State to arise and assert their independence and make the government what it should be.

Yesterday morning the candidate made a hasty trip by automobile, accompanied by Chairman Nugent, Committee Grosscup and the newspaper men to Wenonah, where he spoke to the seventy-five students who are attending the Wenonah Military Academy, which is the pride of the pretty village.

It was a brief, pithy, but extremely helpful speech that Mr. Wilson delivered to the young men who sat before him, in which he emphasized the necessity of each one appreciating fully the opportunities he enjoyed in the school to equip himself for largest usefulness in the world.

After greeting all the students for each of whom he had a pleasant word, the party headed across the country to Mt. Holly to attend politicians' day at the big show.

Mt. Holly was reached at 12 o'clock and there Mr. Wilson was the dinner guest of Captain B. P. Willis, president of the Mt. Holly Fair Association. A number of prominent Democrats met the candidate in an informal manner and told him he would receive a big vote in the Republican county of Burlington.

The party motored out to the fair grounds at 2 o'clock, where Captain Willis and Committee Grosscup introduced him to hundreds of voters. In the president's office he met for the second time during this campaign, Vivian M. Lewis, and the rivals exchanged a few pleasant words. He also greeted Senator John Keon and Congressman John J. Gardner.

In the promiscuous reception which Mr. Wilson held on the fair grounds he was greeted by many Republicans, some of whom assured him of their support.

Shortly before 3 o'clock Mr. Wilson, accompanied by President Willis, Charles Stokes, of Mt. Holly; Chairman Nugent and Committee Grosscup, appeared on the race track in an automobile, followed by a second car, which was occupied by Vivian M. Lewis, Senator Keon and Congressman Gardner.

As the two cars containing the can-

VITAL POINTS MADE BY WILSON AT BURLINGTON

"Legislature ought not to be subjected to the temptations of arranging things privately in committees and passing them without debate on the floors of Legislature."

"I want to say that it would do you very little good to elect me Governor of New Jersey unless you also elected a Democratic Legislature."

"The only persons who ought ever to supervise the legislation of a sovereign commonwealth are the citizens of that commonwealth."

"I am not only insisting that we should have a corrupt practice act, but I am also insisting against all that which operates when things are done in private. And so I say we have got to do everything which will bring our legislators and legislation into direct contact with the choice of the people."

"If I want a safe one to live on I would choose the Republican platform every time because I could do anything I pleased and still walk around with a very handsome air, as who should say: 'I did not promise to do anything more than this. I promised to act in a perfectly constitutional manner.'"

"The contest in New Jersey is not one between parties. It has come to be a choice between platforms and policies."

didates came in front of the president's box the band broke into the bars of the national anthem, on which the 25,000 spectators arose and enthusiastically cheered the standard-bearers of their respective parties. It was a typical country demonstration, and later Mr. Wilson stated he had enjoyed it immensely.

The party left the fair grounds about 3:30 o'clock for Burlington, where the candidate had an opportunity to get a little rest before the great meeting he addressed.

WILSON'S TELLING SPEECH GIVEN AT BURLINGTON.

Dr. Wilson, in his speech in Burlington last night, said:

"Legislators ought not to be subjected to the temptations of arranging things privately in committees and passing them without debate on the floors of legislation. You know that every bit of regulative legislation touches the interests of some sort of influential persons. We should have it in the most public way, so that we should hear all the arguments used and know all the inducements that are resorted to. I say that for the safety of all parties. I am not a Pharisee."

"I know the natural power of self-interest and I know that many an honest man, concentrated in his attention upon his own business, sees nothing but his own business; and it requires that his attention should be drawn to it before he will see his own business is related to the common interest."

"I am not only insisting that we should have a corrupt practice act, but I am also insisting against all that which operates when things are done in private. And so I say we have got to do everything which will bring our legislators and legislation into direct contact with the choice of the people. That is the reason it is important to discuss matters like direct primaries, and to find something in the form of direct primary that will be direct, that is to say, first of all resort to the people themselves, and that will be direct; that will not be susceptible to manipulation by persons that ought not to manipulate."

"Have the Republican leaders served the people of New Jersey as they had promised to serve?" he asked. "Have the present leaders, and by the present leaders I mean the men who organized and conducted the convention, and who nominated the Republican candidate for Governor—do the people understand these gentlemen? To have promised them service along the lines that I have indicated, and if they do understand them to have promised that service, do they expect them to keep the promise?"

"Just as an exercise of memory, if nothing else, go back and read the platform of three years ago. Go over it by item. It is generalized for the most part, but so far as it is itemized, go over the items and see how many of these promises have been kept. These are my witnesses in respect to the keeping of these promises. Republicans themselves are my witnesses. I am now telling you only what Republicans have again and again said in the Republican prints of this State, that the Republican party leaders had not kept faith with the people; had not given them the things they wanted. These same gentlemen who did not keep these promises are the gentlemen who are now giving you new promises."

"From the old ones, what is the

FIRST SMOKE TO COST BOY $100 BY WILL'S TERM

John Osmon, 17, Must Refrain from Tobacco Joys Until 20.

It is not related that 17-year-old John Elliot Osmon likes the succulent pipe or the dream-producing cigarette, but if he doesn't and should like to indulge before he is 20 years of age he will forfeit a bequest of $100 made under the provisions of the will filed today of Amelia Ward Osmon, mother-in-law of Leslie Fort, Governor Fort's son.

Mrs. Osmon died September 21 in the fine Lenox avenue home in East Orange, and left quite an estate. What struck those on the Surrogate's Court as odd was the bequest to her 17-year-old son, in which he is to win $100 if he refrains from smoking until his twentieth birthday. In effect it means that the first cigar or cigarette or pipe this he smokes will cost him $100, which is pretty near a record price for a smoke.

Requests to the Forts.

Under other terms of the will Mrs. Osmon leaves all her jewelry and personal property to Helen Osmon Fort, a daughter, and wife of the Governor's son, and to Alice Ward Osborn, another daughter. The use of all the family portraits is bequeathed to the husband, Alvah Osmon, and after his death to the children. The husband also gets the house, 335 Bellevue avenue. The residue of the estate is divided among the three children, the son, John Elliot, to receive his share when he reaches the age of 25.

EDWARD E. GNICHEL TO YOUNG REPUBLICANS.

Republican Candidate for Mayor Edward E. Gnichtel was the principal speaker last night at the meeting of the Young Men's Republican Association of the Fourteenth ward in New Amsterdam Hall, in Sixteenth avenue. He was enthusiastically received.

Mr. Gnichtel's talk was mainly on providing a remedy for the Passaic river pollution and the Four Corners congestion. He said that one of the first things he would take up, if elected mayor, would be the abatement of the river nuisance. As a remedy for the congestion at the Four Corners he said that the Pennsylvania railroad might be induced to run more local trains to the South street station. This, he said, would necessitate a rearrangement of the trolley service, which would relieve Market street.

REPUBLICAN MAYOR TO VOTE FOR DR. WILSON.

HOBOKEN, Oct. 7.—"I consider the money as good as won," declared Republican Mayor George Gonzales, after betting $25 with John Solferino, a constable in Judge Stubb's court, that Woodrow Wilson would be elected Governor of New Jersey this fall.

The Mayor, who is a Republican and who is chairman of the Republican City Committee, said he would support the Republican ticket locally, but that he intended to give Wilson his vote.

"Conditions in this State need changing," he said, "and I am going to do what I can to help change them."

"I know a lot of Republicans who are going to vote for Wilson and I haven't heard of any Democrats who are out for Lewis. It's a case of the best man for the office with me, and I think Wilson is the best. If we needed a practical politician Lewis would be the man to vote for, but Wilson, while not a politician, is, to my mind, a practical man and well fitted for the office of Governor."

BERGEN COUNTY PLANS WILSON MASS-MEETINGS.

HACKENSACK, Oct. 7.—When Woodrow Wilson comes to Bergen county on Thursday, October 27, the County Democratic Committee plans to give him a rousing reception.

It was decided that Woodrow Wilson, October 27, should make his first speech in Bergen County in the public hall in Rutherford at 8 p. m. A large mass-meeting of the commuters is being planned there. The public utilities issue and rate-making clause will figure prominently.

From Rutherford Mr. Wilson is to be taken in an automobile to Englewood, where he is to speak in the Englewood Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

At 9 p. m. he is due in Hackensack Armory, where he will address the Hackensack commuters.

WILSON WILL SPEAK IN CUMBERLAND CO. TONIGHT.

BRIDGETON, Oct. 7.—Woodrow Wilson, candidate for the Governorship, will visit this city tonight and make an address in the Criterion Theatre. It will be the first time he has visited Cumberland County as a candidate.

Elaborate preparations are being made to receive Mr. Wilson. This county three years ago gave Fort for Governor a plurality of 1,435 over Katzenbach. Because of the faction fight in the Republican ranks in this county, and strength of Mr. Wilson, the Democrats are confident he will get a majority of at least 1,500.

NEGROES URGED TO VOTE FOR WOODROW WILSON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—In an address to the colored voters of the United States, issued last night by the executive committee of the National Independent League, negroes of New Jersey are asked to vote for Woodrow Wilson.

Negroes of the State of Ohio are asked to support Governor Harmon, while those in Indiana are asked to support John W. Kern for senator. The league also calls upon the negroes in the State of Massachusetts to support no candidate for the Legislature who is not pledged to vote against Senator Lodge for reelection.

DEMOCRATS FEAR NO SERIOUS RIVAL OVER IN HARRISON

Overwhelming Democratic Majorities in Town Across the Passaic.

The name Woodrow Wilson seems to be on the tongue of almost every man, woman and child in Harrison. Any place where there is a gathering of men in the town the arguments generally drift to the gubernatorial situation, and the consensus of opinion is that Wilson is sure to be the successor of John Franklin Fort.

Harrison, a genuine hotbed of Democracy, is preparing to give Dr. Wilson a big vote. Many Republicans in the town have openly stated that they intend to vote for Princeton's head. A straw vote recently taken disclosed the fact that Vivian Lewis, the G. O. P. candidate for governor, will get very few votes in the town.

Speeches recently made by Dr. Wilson and printed in the STAR have boosted his stock greatly. Republicans who have never yet cast a Democratic ballot, impressed by the talk of the learned candidate, have decided that he is worthy of their votes, and not only that but they intend to speak to their Republican friends and endeavor to convince them that a vote cast for Professor Wilson is a step taken in the direction of progressiveness.

Are Gently Impressed.

Those of Harrison voters who have been fortunate enough to hear Dr. Wilson talk have been greatly impressed, and they do not lose an opportunity to spread his doctrine. One of the oldest and most ardent adherents of Jeffersonian policies, in discussing the situation today, had the following to say: "The Republicans of this State have had years to make good and they have never done it. Now must come a change. The Democrats could not have picked a stronger man than the one they have for governor, and those directly responsible for his selection are to be congratulated."

Not only will Dr. Wilson get a large vote in Harrison, but every other Democrat seeking national and State honors will have their totals greatly boosted. Congressman Eugene F. Kinkead will likely run better than he did two years ago, when he carried the town by a handsome majority. The general congressmen has made many friends in Harrison, and a number of them are not of his political faith; however, they intend to work and vote for him.

Contest in Third Ward.

In the Third ward only will the Republicans poll any number of votes. This ward has been represented in the Common Council by Republicans for some years and in the past it appeared that the G. O. P. could not be dislodged. This year, however, the Democrats have placed a candidate in the field for councilmanic honors, who it is expected, will have little trouble in being elected.

Thomas F. Cavanagh is the Democrat who hopes to break the Republican grip in the ward. His supporters are working day and night in his behalf, and many prominent Republicans are laboring for him. Cavanagh has lived in the town for years and never before aspired to political preferment. He is a young man of excellent character and the possessor of a personality that is pleasing and has won for him many friends and votes.

Socialists Have Ticket.

The Socialists of the town recently placed a ticket in the field. They named a candidate to oppose Mayor Joseph P. Flordan, who recently secured the indorsement for reelection. The mayor has been in the Council for nearly ten years, and he has established for himself a creditable reputation as an official. His Socialist opponent is Carl Larsen, Jr., and there is no doubt whatever that Larsen will be snouted under.

Councilmen Thomas F. O'Connor, Edward Rice and Dr. M. O'F. Dolphin, of the First, Second and Fourth wards, respectively, are candidates for reelection. Rice and Dolphin will have opposition from the Socialists, but they are not in the least worried. For some reason or other the Socialists failed to name an opponent to Councilman O'Connor. The above named trio of solons have done much for the uplift of the town, and their records in the Council are enviable.

John McKeon, who was renominated for the office of overseer of the poor, will have no opposition on election day. He, too, has proven himself efficient.

WOMAN KILLED, MAN MAY DIE, IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Miss Beatie Carter, a nurse, was killed and Dr. William Kemble had two ribs broken in an automobile accident at Dashville Falls, six miles from Kingston, early today. Mr. Kemble was driving his machine and bringing Miss Carter home from a course in which she had been working. It is thought Dr. Kemble, when near the top of a hill near the bridge at Dashville Falls, attempted to change his clutch, but instead put on the reverse, causing the machine to back over an embankment and upset.

Miss Carter fell into the creek, with the machine on top of her, and was drowned. Both her legs were broken. Dr. Kemble was thrown to the bank of the creek and sustained two broken ribs and internal injuries, which may prove fatal.

TWO KILLED, MANY HURT IN N. Y. GANG FIGHT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Two men were shot and killed and two others seriously wounded that they will die in a gang fight at 1 o'clock this morning in a cafe at 32 West Twenty-eighth street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue. Fully fifty shots were fired. The police arrested fifteen men and four women as witnesses.

DEPTZ STILL HOLDS FORT.

WINTER, Wis., Oct. 7.—Another truce was declared today by the officers trying to capture John Deitz. Attorney-General Gilbert and Colonel Munson will hold another conference with Deitz today to induce him to surrender.

SAMUEL WELDON GEERY, WHO PASSED AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS WEDNESDAY EVENING.

HEART FAILURE CLAIMS REAL ESTATE OPERATOR. Well-Known Man Passes Away Suddenly.

Samuel Weldon Geery, a well-known real estate operator, with offices in the Firemen's building, died at his home, 64 Roseville avenue, last night from heart failure. Mr. Geery had not been in good health for some months, but last Sunday visited his sister, Mrs. Thomas F. Webster, at Queens, L. I., and said that he felt better than he had for a long time. He went to business Monday, but when he returned in the evening felt ill. He did not leave the house Tuesday or Wednesday, and yesterday morning did not get out of bed. He died at 9 o'clock last night.

Mr. Geery was born in New York City in 1837. He attended a private school and later entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University, from which institution he was graduated. Owing to ill-health he never practiced medicine. Soon after graduating he went to China and remained there for several months. On his return to this country he entered the wholesale grocery business conducted by his father, William W. Geery, in New York City.

In 1860 he married Miss Elizabeth Davies, and in 1870 came to Newark. Mr. Geery took an active interest in the Masonic order and was a thirty-third degree Mason. He also belonged to a number of other organizations.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Louis Shreve Osborne, of Trinity Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Rosedale Cemetery.

It is probable that the funeral will be conducted by the Masonic order, but definite arrangements to that effect have not been made as yet. The honorary pall-bearers will be chosen from amongst Mr. Geery's former business associates.

CRIPPEN REWARD FOR SHIP CAPTAIN.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The reward of $1,250 offered by Scotland Yard for information as to the whereabouts of Dr. Crippen and Ethel Clare Le Neve has been paid to Captain Kendall, of the steamship Montrose, on which the pair were discovered last July.

PLEA OF ROBBERS OF S. BROAD ST. HOMES IS GUILTY

Rothschild, 1001 Broad street, some time between the 7th and 19th of September that the two men made their biggest haul. At this place they made a clean-up in bric-a-brac, jewelry, clothing and furs amounting to $2,000. Almost as good was the haul made at the residence of Joel Dickenson, 9 South street, on August 31, when clothing, furs and jewelry to the value of $1,000 was stolen.

Will Get Law's Limit.

It is expected that the two men will be sentenced on next Monday. That the pair will receive the full limit of the law is the general belief around the Court House.

In the case of the Montclair trio sentences will hardly be imposed as quickly, as the fact that Wertz and Edwards pleaded guilty to certain of the charges against them, while Williams pleaded guilty to all of them, will hold up the sentences until October 25, when the cases against Williams are set down for trial.

This trio is not in the same class as the Broad street burglars. Their thefts were small ones from stores and residences. Edwards seemed to take the entire matter as a joke and Wertz was likewise constantly smiling as the indictments were read to him. Williams, who was much better dressed than the other two, took the matter seriously, and seemed to realize that he was facing a long term in prison.

Stole Chickens and Meat.

These men are charged with entering the store of Roth & Co., in Montclair, on July 29, where chickens and meat to the value of $25.10 was stolen; of entering the stores of Samuel Albert, Isaac Samuel and the residents of Bebe M. Osborn, in Broomfield, on July 5. From the stores money and hams to the value of $16.75 were taken, while from the Osborn residence a bracelet valued at $2 and cash to the extent of $2.50 was obtained. Edwards pleaded that he alone was guilty of the theft of three shirts, valued at $8, from the store of Helen Kohn, Montclair, on June 15, while Edwards also pleaded guilty to two gas meter robberies. Williams, jointly indicted with him on these charges, pleaded not guilty.

Alfred C. Hughes, of 238 Halsey street, who on August 29 was arrested by the police of the Second Precinct in company with James Volk, of 44 Jacob street, and James Dowd, of 57 Orange street, on a charge of systematically robbing the wine and liquor house of William Mayer, 476 Broad street, where all three were employed, pleaded guilty to the charge and was remanded to jail for sentence. The other men named are out on bail and have not yet pleaded.

By a system of false charges and by loading extra cases of wines and liquors on the delivery wagons, the men are charged with stealing $782 from the Mayer concern.

Pleads Guilty to Forgery.

Charles Vanden pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with passing two forged checks on Mrs. Jennie Hirschfeld, of 160 Belmont avenue. On September 24 Vanden presented two checks on the Newark National Banking Company supposedly signed by Christ Berger, one for $10 and the other for $5. Both were returned as worthless.

Frank Wallace pleaded guilty to stealing a gold watch from Gustave Marx on October 1, while the two men were out drinking in a number of saloons.
